

BELIEVE WOMAN POISONED 4 MATES

Chicago Police Look Into Mysterious Deaths of Former Husbands

KIN ALSO DIE AFTER EATING

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Investigation of the life of Mrs. Tillie Klimek, who, according to police, is believed to have poisoned at least four husbands, was extended today to include other late relatives of the woman.

Her present husband, Joseph Klimek, is seriously ill from poison. He recently had his life insured.

In the body of Frank Krupiec, another husband, was found enough poison "to kill four men," according to a coroner's physician.

Plans were made to exhume the bodies of John Ruzsakowski and Joseph Mikrowicz, former mates of the woman. Meanwhile Harry Sulda, a cousin of the accused woman, told the State's attorney's office of the mysterious death of his sister Rose, who died after attending a dinner at Klimek's home. When Sulda's story was told, Elizabeth Wylecowski, another cousin, said her two sisters and a brother died under mysterious circumstances after they dined at the Klimek home.

The two cousins asked to have the bodies of their relatives examined for examination.

Stevens to Force Showdown in Murder troopers to emulate Sherlock Holmes at the little fishing spot along the coast.

"We think it is about time," said Mrs. Stevens, "that we pull up our belongings and go away somewhere, in order to force an issue with the authorities who are investigating the murder. When this thing happened we were all prepared and ready to leave on a tour of the world; of course, we gave it up."

"I thought it was better for Henry to stay and face what was in store for him. Now we think the authorities have had time enough to act, and we feel the best way to force them to do something will be for us to leave here and go on our trip; then it will be up to them."

"The question has been asked why Henry did not give his sister away in marriage. The truth of the matter is that Henry was in New England at that time and traveling; but he was not in Europe, as reported. He could not know Mr. Hall, and therefore did not come home. He only saw Mr. Hall twice before the wedding, anyway."

"The first time he ever met Mr. Hall was at the Hall home, at which time Frances casually remarked that she was going to marry him. My husband and Mr. Hall had nothing whatever in common, and he therefore made no special effort to be present at the ceremony."

Cites Many Untruths
"It is absolutely untrue that my husband was in New Brunswick on the day of the wedding, and it is likewise untrue that he had refused to pull on the Hall's sleeve the morning of the wedding. In fact, there is an entry in his diary on June 23 saying 'Edward and Frances here.'"

"They came for that visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gorsline."

"To our mind the true solution of the mystery has not been hinted at yet. What of the question concerning other men in Mrs. Mills' life? We have been told that one of her former lovers is dead. The question is—is he really dead?"

"Henry today is at the gunning point across the bay. He will not be back until tomorrow afternoon. He is in a houseboat over there, but we have arranged a system of signals. While he is at the houseboat he keeps a handkerchief flying on a stick. I can see it with my telescope. That tells me he is there. When he starts home he takes it down. If I want him home if the authorities call for him I will hoist a flag at this end, so he is available at all times."

Ridicules State Troopers
"Lavellette is a very small piece, and it is amusing to see the state troopers have tried to shadow my husband. Two State troopers came down here the day he went gunning, and began parading up and down the boardwalk, but they were watching an empty house, for my husband had left for the gunning point at 3 o'clock that morning."

"If they had told us who they were we would have told them where to go to do their shadowing, or we would have brought them into the house and made them comfortable. They were in disguise, but the whole town knew who they were half an hour after they reached here."

"First they pretended to be gunners, but they had no guns; then they pretended to be fishermen, but they had no tackle, and finally they pretended to be cigar salesmen, but they had no samples."

"I would like to tell Sergeant Lamb to tell his men not to wear spurs, and shoes or regulation bandaged shirts when they're trying to disguise as something else. He should at least provide them with a rod or some fish hooks."

Obstructive Tactics Charged
Investigation of reports of a plot to obstruct justice in the Hall-Mills murder case and to protect the murderers is under way today.

Special Deputy Attorney General William A. Mott, who expects to seek the indictment of the "woman in gray" the latter part of this week, on the strength of the eye-witness story of Mrs. Jane Gibson, is said to feel that the inquiry has been hampered by the refusal of some of the witnesses to tell all they know.

William G. Bearman, manager of the Reckitt Blue Company, and his band of a cousin of Mrs. Hall, issued a statement today to the effect that "Mrs. Hall's family would pursue the investigation to the limit, even if the authorities do not go through with it."

The day thus far has brought few developments. The authorities believe they can show that there were three flashlights in the Hall family instead of two as Mrs. Hall has stated.

Now beautify teeth in this way
Millions of them—the world over

Careful people, well advised, now use a new teeth-cleaning method — millions of them in every clime, and largely by dental advice.

Beautiful teeth you see everywhere show the results of this method.

It is something you should know. Learn what it means to you and yours. Make this free ten-day test.

Combats the dingy film
It is film that makes teeth dingy — that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains discolor it, then it forms thin cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film.

The ordinary tooth paste does not end film. So most teeth, in the old days, were more or less discolored.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film. Under old methods, they were constantly increasing. The most careful people rarely escaped.

Two combatants now
Dental science, after long research, has found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it. Able authorities have amply proved their efficiency. Now leading dentists the world over are urging their daily use.

A new tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. It brings five effects now considered essential. It avoids several old mistakes.

This tooth paste is called Pepsodent. And those two great film combatants are embodied in it.

Other desired effects
Modern research has found other things essential, and Pepsodent brings those effects.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

Thus Pepsodent gives manifold power to Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. It polishes the teeth so film less easily adheres. Old-time tooth pastes, based on soap and chalk, brought just opposite effects.

In these ways, Pepsodent is bringing a new dental era. Already it has brought to millions whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. The peoples of fifty nations are being taught to use it. And their children will get life-long benefits which your childhood missed.

Why Men's Teeth Glisten everywhere today

The film on teeth of men who smoke becomes especially discolored. But note how men's teeth glisten nowadays — men who remove the film. Note how men and women, when they smile, are showing pretty teeth. Those are Pepsodent effects, now attained by millions, largely through dental advice. They do not come by scouring teeth in any harmful way, but by scientific film removal.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

The evenness of performance so often remarked in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars is due, in no small part, to the thoroughness with which each unit is inspected during the process of manufacture and assembly.

A trained staff of 800 experts is employed in this work alone, and approximately 5265 individual inspections are made on each car.

So exacting and rigid are the standards applied to these inspections that the slightest variation either in workmanship or material is instantly discovered and rejected.

Dodge Brothers are almost over-scrupulous in their constant aim to make each car as sound and perfect as is humanly possible.
